PREFACE

This is the second statistical report on corporations in Ontario published by the Ontario Statistical Centre. The report is the result of a joint effort of the Ontario Statistical Centre and the Companies Branch of the Department of Financial and Commercial Affairs.

The first report was so well received that it prompted some expansion, and this issue contains information on the geographical distribution of active corporations in Ontario.

We are deeply indebted to the Department of Financial and Commercial Affairs for their co-operation and participation in this project. Special thanks are due to Mr. J. K. Young, Director, Mr. H. H. Ozolins, Executive Officer, and other members of the Companies Branch. Only through their unreserved co-operation was the preparation of this report possible.

The report was prepared by Mr. N. Ferik, Supervisor, Statistical Standards Unit, with the assistance of Mr. D. S. MacInnes, Statistician, and the clerical and secretarial staff of the Surveys and Statistical Standards Section, under the direction of Mr. G. Z. Szabo.

INTRODUCTION

This report provides information on the growth of corporations, their composition by type, formation of new corporations and incorporations by jurisdiction. The statistics on corporations were compiled from the administrative records of the Companies Branch, Department of Financial and Commercial Affairs.

Data on corporations were prepared as of October 31st of each year. In the next publication, corporation statistics will be compiled as of March 31st, the end of a fiscal year. Some adjustments will then be made to statistics previously published to ensure continuity of the statistical series.

An additional feature included in this report is the geographical distribution of corporations in Ontario. As administrative records show locations of corporations in the province by "Business Districts", the level at which geographical data for corporations could be published was, at best, by groups of counties. The geographical distribution presented in this report gives indication of the spread of corporations in the Province. It is hoped, however, that more geographical details can be made available in future publications.

DEFINITIONS

A corporation is created by its charter which is granted either by provincial or federal authority. A charter is issued to any number of persons, not fewer than three, of twenty-one or more years of age, who become shareholders or members of the corporation. The charter sets forth the objects of the corporation, the amount of capital it is authorized to issue, and certain provisions for the regulation and conduct of the affairs of the corporation.

There are several types of corporations. The main distinction is between corporations with share or without share capital.

In this report, the following definitions will apply:

COMPANY: An Ontario corporation with share capital, other than those listed below.

CORPORATION: An Ontario corporation without share capital, other than those listed below.

CREDIT UNION: An Ontario corporation incorporated under the Credit Unions Act.

INSURANCE COMPANY: An Ontario corporation incorporated for the purpose of underwriting insurance of any type under the Insurance Act. Insurance Agents, Brokers or Adjusters are excluded.

MINING COMPANY: An Ontario corporation subject to Part IV of the Corporations Act or the predecessor thereof (Part XI of the Companies Act).

SOCIAL CLUB COMPANY: An Ontario corporation with share capital, having social objects.

SOCIAL CLUB CORPORATION: An Ontario corporation without share capital, having social objects. Service clubs are excluded.

CO-OPERATIVE WITHOUT SHARE CAPITAL: An Ontario co-operative corporation without share capital.

CO-OPERATIVE WITH SHARE CAPITAL: An Ontario co-operative corporation with share capital.

COMPANY WITH AN EXTRA-PROVINCIAL LICENCE: A corporation incorporated outside the Province of Ontario which has an Ontario licence to carry on any of its business in Ontario. Excluded are Quebec and federally incorporated corporations which do not require extra-provincial licences.

CORPORATION HOLDING LICENCE IN MORTMAIN: A corporation with or without share capital, incorporated outside Ontario which holds licence in Mortmain. Licence in Mortmain empowers a foreign corporation to hold land in Ontario. This includes federally incorporated corporations but excludes corporations incorporated in Quebec on a basis of the reciprocal agreement between the provinces of Ontario and Quebec.

PRIVATE LOAN COMPANY: An Ontario private loan corporation with limited objects - with power to lend and invest money on mortgage of real estate or otherwise, subject to section 3 of the Corporation Act.

MINING SYNDICATE: An Ontario mining corporation whose existence is limited to three years.

OTHERS: Composed mainly of unlicensed Federal and Quebec corporations with and without share capital, etc.

PRIVATE COMPANY: An Ontario company as to which by its special Act, letters patent or supplementary letters patent;

- (i) the right to transfer its shares is restricted,
- (ii) the number of its shareholders, exclusive of persons who are in the employment of the company, is limited to fifty, two or more persons holding one or more shares jointly being counted as a single shareholder, and
- (iii) any invitation to the public to subscribe for its shares or securities is prohibited.

PUBLIC COMPANY: An Ontario company that is not a private company.

Geographical Location

GEOGRAPHICAL LOCATION indicates the area where the major business operations of a corporation are being carried out. A single-unit corporation is coded to the actual location of the corporation. In the case of a multi-unit corporation, the location may or may not be the same as the head office of an Ontario corporation or the principal office of a corporation incorporated by an extra-provincial jurisdiction.

STATISTICAL HIGHLIGHTS

The slack in the Ontario economy in 1970 was highlighted by a decline in the formation of new corporations in the Province. After six years of steady increase in the birth of corporations, there were 1,400 fewer corporations formed in 1970 than in 1969.

In spite of the decline in the formation of new corporations in the Province, the total number of active corporations in Ontario increased by 7,309 or 6.9% from the previous year. The total number of active corporations incorporated in Ontario increased by only 6.7% compared to an increase of 7.3% in 1969, while corporations incorporated outside the Province increased by 8.7%, which is more than twice the percentage change in 1969. The number of credit unions, mining companies, social club companies and co-operatives without share capital has steadily declined in the last three years (See Table 3). The composition of active corporations by type was essentially the same in 1970 as in 1968 and 1969. Companies (corporations with share capital) accounted for a slightly higher proportion of all active corporations in 1970 than in the previous years (See Table 2).

The number of public companies continued to decline from 1968 to 1970, while private companies increased in number during the same period. Consequently, private companies in 1970 accounted for a greater proportion of the total of public and private companies incorporated in Ontario than in 1968 and 1969.

In 1970, 89% of the total number of Ontario's active corporations was incorporated in the Province. Of the 11% which were incorporated outside the Province, 8% had federal licences and 3% were incorporated in other provinces and outside Canada. Corporations incorporated in British Columbia showed the biggest percentage increase from 1969 to 1970, followed by Alberta and Delaware. Of all jurisdictions with more than 45 corporations, only corporations incorporated in Great Britain declined in number between 1969 and 1970. A detailed distribution of corporations by jurisdiction of incorporation is shown in Table 6. In 1970, the number of active corporations in Ontario which was incorporated in the United States increased by 54 or 8% from the previous year.

Table 7 shows the geographical distribution of the various types of corporations. More than half of Ontario's active corporations concentrated their operations in 1970 in the Ontario and York counties area. The Brant, Halton, Peel and Wentworth counties group accounted for 9% of the total corporations of the Province. This strong concentration of corporations in the south-west portions of the Province is shown on the map on page 17. The number of corporations drops rapidly towards the northern and eastern parts of Ontario.

When the number of corporations is presented relative to the assessed population (page 21), the same pattern of corporation deficiency in northern and eastern Ontario and the dominant concentration in the southwest area still prevails, but the northern Ontario deficiency is seen to be less severe than that in Eastern Ontario. Table 10 shows that there was an average of 64 persons per corporation in Ontario in 1970. The number of persons per corporation ranges from 37 in the area of Ontario and York counties to 129 in the area of Dundas, Glengarry, Leeds and Stormont counties.
